

LITTLE LIGHT AFRICA

...empowering the powerless

Date: 15th January 2022

We Africans are brilliant individuals. We're a trillion-dollar people with immense achievements within Africa and beyond. We're found across numerous professional fields, and we've become yardsticks for success in some of these fields because of our hardworking nature and ingenuity. However, despite our accomplishments, many Africans are still struggling, and many are loaded with innovative ideas but lack the necessary tools and resources. In an attempt to alleviate the pressure on these struggling Africans, Little Lights Africa, a non-profit organization established by Researcher and counselor Olateju Samuel on the 15th of January, 2022, has decided to dedicate their attention to motivating and empowering young and old Africans with the skills and resources they need to change their personal, organizational, and communal lives for the better. Olateju Samuel works alongside some bright minds to help gather resources from charitable donors within and outside the continent and re-distribute them to those in need. Little Lights Africa, or LLA as its members fondly refer to it, hopes to help as many Africans as possible and have a lasting positive impact on their lives. LLA believes that all any struggling person needs is a helping hand and a gentle nudge in the right direction, and we believe that we can change Africa for good by helping our Little Lights shine brighter and stronger.
